The city water is shut off again. This is always done without any notice to any one and there is no one who seems to know when water will be turned on again. One depending on the city for water supply should try and acquire the attributes of a camel, so that being without water for a week or two would not inconvenience them much; either that or lay in a supply of beer.

For some time, until lately, our town has been entirely free from billiard and pool playing, but something more than a week ago a party seemed to think that keeping a place of this kind was the road to wealth. He had not been open a week when another party thought, that if one could make a living, two ought to get rich, and he started another one. There are earnest citizens watching them and if they want to continue in business they had better see to it that they obey the law and that they do not allow minors to play or their career will be short and expensive.

One of our local democrats the other day was loudly declaiming against Wm. Bryan and asserting that as the party was happily rid of him it was unwise to keep his name so constantly before the people. He was reminded that that was almost exactly the line of talk he indulged in four years ago just after Bryan's first defeat, but that just previous to the last election he was found kowtowing to Wm. Bryan in as abject a manner as is required of Prince Chun, by the Germans and he was advised to go slow now or in less than three years from now he may find himself rubbing his nose on the ground again in repentance before Mr. Bryan.
